Division Head of Gastroenterology
Department of Medicine
University of British Columbia

The Department of Medicine at the University of British Columbia invites applications for the position as the academic Head of the Division of Gastroenterology. It is anticipated that the successful candidate will qualify for and be eligible for an appointment at the rank of Professor or Clinical Professor.

The successful candidate will be responsible for the development and coordination of the entire Division, which is made up of programs located at all of UBC’s teaching hospitals. He/she will be tasked with leading the Division of Gastroenterology in its Provincial focus on clinical care, education and research.

The successful candidate will be an excellent clinician and a strong leader with demonstrated interpersonal and administrative skills. He/she will be experienced with educational programs, and will be supportive of the educational and research missions of the Division and the aspirations of Division faculty. The incumbent will have demonstrated excellence in teaching and will be expected to participate in the undergraduate and postgraduate teaching activities of the Division and Department.

The successful candidate must have an FRCPC or equivalent in Gastroenterology, and be eligible to be licensed to practice as a Gastroenterologist in British Columbia.

Compensation and rank will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. The appointment will commence as early as January 1, 2015, and the closing date for applications is October 7, 2014.

UBC hires on the basis of merit and is committed to employment equity. All qualified persons are encouraged to apply, however, Canadian and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.

Applications should include curriculum vitae, a teaching dossier, a letter describing research interests and plans, and four (4) letters of reference addressing scholarly, professional and creative work, teaching and administration. Applications should be sent to:
